

Direct contact with scientists

Scientific observation

Practical activities

Ciência Viva

Created in 1996

An association of research institutes and official S&T bodies

Works with schools, local authorities, scientific associations and research laboratories

More than 3 000 projects in schools since 1996

9 500 youngsters in summer internships at research laboratories since 1997

Our activities

Promoting science education

Promoting public awareness of S&T

Creating a national network of science centers (20)

Fostering international cooperation in science education

Direct contact with astronomers

Observations all over the country, since 1996

About 300 teachers trained during IYA

Astronomy in Summer

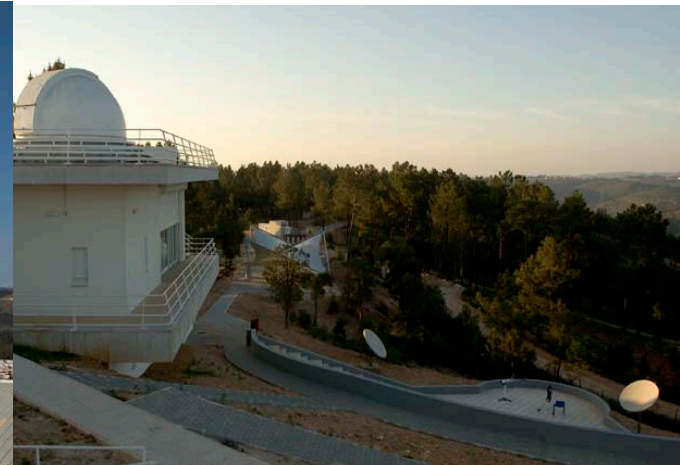

A long term partnership with astronomers

Involving scientists and amateur astronomers

Supporting scientific associations and schools

Training teachers and science centers personnel (IYA)

3 science centers dedicated to Astronomy

Ciência Viva Science Centers

Meeting point for the public with scientists and amateur astronomers

Planetaria, astronomical observations

outdoor exhibits

outreach

